Miss Edna Aug, 60 Is Found Dead At Willow Home

Writer Who is Said to Have Refused Medical Assistance Because of Religious Scruples Dies From Peritonitis Caused by Appendicitis, According to Coroner's Verdict

No Autopsy District Attorney Murray Cancels Order for Autopsy as Result of Investigation

Miss Edna Aug, 60, Willow writer who resided alone in a bungalow far back from the main road was found dead in her home Wednesday, apparently from an attack of appendicitis which resulted in peritonitis.

She had not been attended by a physician during her illness although a neighbor who had gone to the house daily to take her food had advised her to have a physician called. Despite his urgent demand that she have a doctor she refused medical aid, it being held by her that under her faith, that of Christian Science, she did not require medical aid.

Lived Alone
Miss Aug lived alone in a bungalow on the road leading up the mountain back of the Wesleyan Church at Willow with her two police dogs. For several days she had been taken food by James Van Wagener of Willow who advised her to have a physician called.

Wednesday afternoon about 5 o'clock he went to the house to take food and when he was unable to get any response investigated and found the aged woman dead. He notified Coroner Norvin R. Lasher at Saugerties and after an investigation into the case Mr. Lasher issued a verdict of death from peritonitis caused by an attack of chronic appendicitis. The body was turned over to Undertaker Victor N. Lasher at Woodstock.

Sheriff Is Notified
Notice of the death was sent to Sheriff Abram F. Molyneux and an investigation was started by his office. District Attorney Cleon B. Murray was also notified and an autopsy was ordered performed by Dr. J. S. Taylor of this city and Dr. Bassow of Woodstock but later when the report of Coroner Lasher was received Mr. Murray cancelled the order for an autopsy since there were no evidences of violence and death apparently was from natural causes.

When advised to get a physician Miss Aug informed Mr. Van Wagener that it was against her religious principles to call in a physician and held that she would be all right in time.

Because of the heavy snow in the mountains it was necessary to shovel out a roadway to the house before the body could be removed.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Victor N. Lasher Funeral Home in Woodstock.

Santa Made Happy Today When Stack Of Mail Arrives

Thousand City Children Write
Appealing Missives to Jolly
Patron Who Sees Busy
Christmas Eve

Santa Claus paid a flying visit to the city hall this morning to look over his mail. He found his desk piled high with letters from the children of Kingston.

"It is going to keep me busy Christmas Eve delivering all these requests," he observed with a jolly smile, as he pointed to the stack of letters.

"Fully a thousand children have written me asking me not to forget them on Christmas," continued the jolly Santa Claus, "and with the aid of the Mayor's Christmas Cheer Committee it looks as though no one will be overlooked."

Contributions of money are being received by the committee, and considerably more cash could be used. All contributions in cash should be sent to the committee addressed to the city hall where all of Santa Claus's mail is being handled this season.

Before leaving the city Santa Claus paid a brief visit to his three workshops. They are located in the Central Fire Station, Cornell House and Wiltwyck station, where the firemen are busy at work renovating the toys and games that are being collected in the house to house canvass of the city by the police department. ### Ford Says Entry Of Jews Would Be Asset to Business

Motor Manufacturer Makes
His Statement After Talk
With Detroit Rabbi, Defends Medal Acceptance

Detroit, Dec. 1 (AP)—Henry Ford, who has been accused by some critics of being anti-semitic, believes the admission under immigration quotas of Jews seeking a haven from Nazi persecution would give "a new impetus" to American business.

The automobile manufacturer, who was decorated by the German government on his 75th birthday last July 30, made the assertion in a statement last night after conferring in his Dearborn office with Rabbi Leo M. Franklin, of Temple Beth El, Detroit.

Referring to the grand cross of the Order of the German Eagle which Chancellor Adolf Hitler conferred on him, Ford said: "My acceptance of a medal from the German people does not, as some people seem to think, involve any sympathy on my part with Nazism. Those who have known me for many years realize that anything that breeds hate is repulsive to me."

Ford said "It is my opinion that the German people, as a whole, are not in sympathy with their rulers in their anti-Jewish policies, which is the work of a few war-makers at the top."

"I believe that the United States cannot fall at this time to maintain its traditional role as a haven for the oppressed," Ford stated. "I am convinced not only that this country could absorb many of the victims who must find a refuge outside of their native lands, but that as many of them as could be admitted under our selective quota system would constitute a real asset to our country."

"Because of their special adaptability in the fields of production, distribution and agriculture, they would offer to the business of this country a new impetus at a time like this, when it is badly needed."

"I am confident that the time is near when there will be so many jobs available in this country that the entrance of a few thousand Jews, or other immigrants, will be negligible."

"I believe that the return-to-the-land movement is one of the ultimate solutions of our economic problems, and in this movement the Jews of the old world can play a significant part. I am wholly sympathetic with the movement to give the oppressed Jew an opportunity to rebuild his life in this country and I, myself, will do everything possible toward that end."

Ford said, "hundreds of Jewish men now employed in our plants show marked ability and loyalty and, if the turnover among them is sometimes comparatively high, it is indicative of their ambition to improve themselves."

In 1927 a $1,000,000 libel suit was filed against Ford for an alleged anti-Jewish campaign in his Dearborn Independent. The case was settled out of court and Ford disposed of the weekly newspaper. At that time he issued a statement paying tribute to the Jewish race.

Army Gives Orders Today Assistant Secretary of War Orders Munitions Pro- ducers to Streamline Preparations to Avoid Repetition of 1917-1918 Experiences

Washington, Dec. 1 (AP)—The army gave orders today to streamline preparations for production of munitions.

Louis Johnson, assistant secretary of war, told more than 250 army procurement specialists that in the event of war the high command did not "want the experiences of 1917-18 repeated."

Designs for arms and supplies must be simplified and arrangements speeded for mass production, he advised, both to meet any war emergency and to cope with increased orders resulting from President Roosevelt's proposals to reinforce national defenses.

"We hope Congress will give us a sufficient stock of munitions to tide us over until industry is ready," Johnson said.

The assistant secretary, one of the President's principal advisers on the prospective rearmament program, summoned the army officers to the first national conference of the kind.

"We have selected 10,000 plants to which we have given definite war schedules of production," Johnson said in discussing preparations for any future war.

but numerous production "bottlenecks" must be broken, he added. "There are still more than 25 per cent of our items, many of them vital to our cause, for which specifications and drawings have not been completed," he said.

Of 7,300 articles or production processes figuring in war department plans, he said, 55 critical items were "so difficult of production, so different from ordinary peacetime needs that industry will not be able to produce them in mass without some education."

An immediate objective, Johnson specified: Establishment of standard types for all critical arms and supplies, and completion of all drawings and data.

Completion of industrial surveys to establish the capacity of all plants.

Training of factories by means of current and "educational" orders.

Completion of organization and training of personnel needed to expand supply organizations to war strength.

Early completion of simple contract forms "adequate for all anticipated war conditions."

Fast Freight Hits Bus at Rural Crossing, 10 Miles Outside Utah Metropolis; Streets Victims

Fireman Screams Freight's Fireman Sees Bus, Screams, but Engineer Can Not Stop 'Flying Ute'

Salt Lake City, Dec. 1 (AP)—A fast freight train crashed into a loaded school bus during a snowstorm near here today, killing 26, and seriously injuring at least a dozen others.

W. E. Speakman, chief clerk of the Rio Grande and Western railway said 26 dead had been counted. The bodies were taken to mortuaries throughout the city and attempts were being made to locate relatives to assist in identification. The victims were children between 12 and 16 years of age.

Mrs. Sarah Bergstrom, business superintendent of the Salt Lake General Hospital, said she personally aided in the recovery of 18 bodies.

Estimates of the number of persons on the bus ranged from 40 to 60.

Dead and injured were scattered along the right-of-way for hundreds of feet.

The accident occurred at 8:56 a. m. M. S. T., at a rural crossing about 10 miles south of here. The bus was bound for the Jordan High School.

The condition of the bodies and the inaccessibility of the crossing made a difficult check on casualties difficult.

Visibility Reduced
A most storm had reduced visibility and had delayed the schedule of the Denver and Rio Grande western freight, "the Flying Ute."

Sheriff S. Grant Young said the engineer, E. L. Roehmer, told him he was on the right side of the cab and that the bus was coming from the left. His fireman screamed for him to stop, he said.

Young said the freight normally is going about 60 miles an hour at the crossing. The sheriff said it apparently was stopped at the crossing and then started up again so that the engine hit it broadside, sending the bus around the front of it.

"It was the awfullest thing I ever saw," David Witter, 22, of Denver, riding on an oil tank close to the freight engine, told Sheriff Young.

"All of a sudden I felt a terrible bump. . . . Finally the train pulled to a stop."

Holding to Pocketbook
"One little girl was standing there screaming, holding for dear life to a little pocketbook."

"None of them seemed to die right away."

"One by one they would stop screaming."

"One boy had virtually all of his clothes stripped off him."

For hundreds of feet down the railroad tracks books, clothes, handkerchiefs, even shoes, were scattered.

Kingston Branch Of Peace League Endorses a Plan

A new plan for the relief of persecuted Jews in Germany by which the "costs shall be charged to the German government" has been proposed by the Rev. Harry F. Ward, National Chairman of the American League for Peace and Democracy and endorsed by the local Kingston Branch.

The plan, incorporated in a statement made by Dr. Ward, is in keeping with a recent resolution adopted by the local branch which condemned anti-Semitic outbreaks in Nazi Germany.

Dr. Ward in his statement, proposed that the following "immediate steps... can and must be taken to relieve the chaotic conditions created by the German government's persecution of the Jews."

"First: that the President should at once call a conference of all democratic nations to consider the problem of jointly providing within their own boundaries and colonies new homes for the Jewish people now in Germany."

"Second: that the President recommend to this conference that since the action of the German government has created this problem and since the German government is taking from the German Jews the money which would otherwise be available to meet the initial cost of resettlement, therefore these costs shall be charged to the German government."

"Third: that until the German government makes satisfactory arrangements to meet these costs, each government participating in the resettlement plans forbid all exports, loans and credits to Germany; and all imports from Germany; and all money owing to Germany by their citizens through commercial and financial transactions shall be paid to the government to be held until a satisfactory arrangement with the Nazi government shall be concluded."

"Fourth: that if the other democratic governments fail to respond affirmatively to the proposal for a conference for this problem, the United States proceed immediately to put this program into effect in this country to the limit of its ability to receive and provide for refugees."

"That meantime the United States government let it be decisively known that it will not enter into a trade treaty with the Nazi government."

"That our government keep its ambassador and its 'trade envoy' to Germany until the problem of the German Jews is adjusted to its satisfaction."

"That the State Department refuse all applications for export licenses for the shipment of arms, munitions and implements of war to Germany, thus abiding by the terms of the Trianon Treaty which the State Department has not enforced since 1935."

"That the American people unanimously refuse to buy German goods."

"That organized labor take steps to meet its responsibility for participating in the shipment of goods to Germany, especially war supplies."

"These proposals mean that the American League is unalterably opposed to limiting proposals for the relief of German Jews to resettlement in colonies and also to having the cost of Nazi barbarism and aggression once more placed upon the people of democratic nations."

"The American League must also point out that any proposals to relieve the suffering of Jews in Germany offer no solution to the main problem of the barbarism and aggression of the Nazi government. The Nazis continually persecute other religious and political minorities. Along with other Fascist governments, they have a continuous program of aggression against other nations. They continuously threaten and make war. There is no hope of peace—no security for any nation or race, until the menace of Fascism is removed from the world scene. The American League points out to the American people that our first steps toward the solution of the problem is by means of the embargo and boycott to prevent the Nazi government from using American economic resources in any way for the furtherance of its barbarism and aggression."

Milestones Preserved

Unadilla (AP)—Milestones dating back to old stage coach days and marking the road known as the Catskill Turnpike from Catskill on the Hudson river to Watkins Ferry have been set in frameworks of masonry to assure their permanency. The milestones are crudely made of red stone. Frank D. A. R. Chapter is responsible for their preservation.

Flowers Grew Again

Rochester, N. Y. (AP)—The recent spell of November "balmy" weather had a peculiar effect on floriculture in this area. In East Bloomfield climbing roses and aris appeared. Near Avoca a woman picked sweet peas in her garden, while a man in the same community picked strawberries from his garden. Two Forsythia bushes at a residence in Victor were in full bloom.

The first steam locomotive, tested out on horse car tracks in Wales in 1803, was not a commercial success.

Vary the Way

Serve potatoes some way every day—but vary the way. This may be easily done. Consider these suggested methods of preparation, following the illustration and reading from left to right, commencing with the back row.

Baked potatoes: Ideal for oven meals. Rub skins with butter both before and after baking. Serve with plenty of butter. Good for children.

Boiled potatoes: The kind men prefer with thick brown gravy—and lots of it! If steamed, the potatoes will not become soggy. Use for mashed or whipped potatoes.

Browned potatoes: A grand method of cooking potatoes with a roast. Sprinkle with paprika for color and flavor. Combine with other vegetables. Don't over-cook.

Potato Balls: Novel to serve at luncheon or dinner parties. Fry in deep fat or serve with cream sauce.

Shoe String potatoes: A thinner variety of French fried potatoes. Rinse in salted water, fry in deep fat and sprinkle with salt before serving. May be purchased in cans.

Novelty French Fried potatoes: Different to serve for parties. Cook in deep fat and serve hot.

Lattice potatoes: When cooked, these potatoes are similar to potato chips. Unusually good with cold cuts, cheese and similar refreshment platters.

Diced potatoes: Especially nice creamed. When combined with pimientos, chopped green peppers and cream sauce, these make a tasty dish to serve guests. Always steam and do not over-cook.

Sliced potatoes: When sliced very thin and fried in deep fat, these become potato chips. Sprinkle with salt or grated cheese before serving. Sliced potatoes may also be fried in a skillet in butter.

POTATO PATTERNS

or margarine and seasoned with salt and pepper—generally called cottage potatoes.

French Fried potatoes: The old stand-by—an essential to steak platters. Fry in deep fat and serve at once.

Mealey's Warning For Safe Driving

Albany, Dec. 1.—A wave of traffic accidents which came hard on the heels of New York State's first, unexpected taste of winter weather brought a message today from Carroll E. Mealey, commissioner of motor vehicles.

It was a message of warning to motorists that reduced speed is the first and foremost precautionary measure the operator can take to avoid winter smashups.

"We're in for winter driving conditions now," said the commissioner, "and we can expect snowy and icy streets and highways for much of the next few months."

"We begin the month of December after having made great gains in our continual campaign against traffic accidents but we are mindful that December is one of the most dangerous months of the motorist's year."

"If we are to continue these gains in accident reduction, we must have the whole-hearted cooperation of all drivers. And the driver can begin by curbing, drastically, his own speed."

Commissioner Mealey offered the following winter driving hints for accident avoidance:

Drive slowly on roads covered with snow or ice.

Be especially careful on curves.

Avoid overtaking and passing other cars, except where this is absolutely necessary.

For slowing down or stopping, allow for road conditions by applying brakes earlier than you would under normal circumstances.

Use second gear for gradual braking, especially when descending steep hills, where roads are slippery.

Avoid applying brakes suddenly. Sudden braking on slippery pavement causes skidding.

In the event of skidding, avoid using brakes. Turn front wheels in the direction of the skid and take your foot off the accelerator gradually, leaving clutch engaged.

Give pedestrians more time than you think they need and be on the alert, always, for children with sleds.

Drive with one window of your car partly open to prevent fogging up of your windshield and as a precaution against carbon monoxide gas.

Make sure of the proper operation of your brakes for simultaneous grip, check operation of defroster and windshield wiper, and have the chains handy for use if needed for traction.

Commissioner Mealey also had a word for the winter pedestrian: "Walk slowly and carefully on slippery streets, and don't rely solely on the ability of the driver to stop on snow and ice."

A closing comment was directed expressly to parents: "Don't permit children to coast in the road, except on streets closed to traffic for that purpose."

CHRISTMAS CHEER

The Christmas Cheer Committee needs the cooperation of all residents, who are in a position to help, if they are to be successful in bringing a Merry Christmas for every youngster in the city. It is planned that 1,500 children in the city receive a visit from Santa Claus this year.

Members of the police department are assisting in making house-to-house calls soliciting gifts of old toys, books and games which can be renovated and be made as good as new. Residents desiring to aid in this cause may get in touch with the police or fire departments and the articles will be called for. The contributions are brought to the Central Fire Station, where Santa Claus's helpers with paint and brush and tools make them look like new.

Added Christmas cheer was brought to the homes of many here last year and there is need of its continuance this year. The cooperation of all who helped to make last year's drive a success is again solicited. The unselfish spirit displayed by the youngsters in this worthy work is something for a city to be very proud of. The boys and girls who last year brought their toys for those less fortunate have expressed their eagerness to again help.

In the distribution of Christmas Cheer to the needy families this year, it might be suggested that Santa Claus's visit be made as quietly and unostentatiously as practicable. It would be pitiful if for fear of attracting undue neighborhood attention, one single deserving family in the city might not enjoy the genuine spirit of Christmas giving practised by those more fortunate.

STEEL HOUSES

The Age of Steel seems to be approaching a climax with the production of steel dwellings. Foretold for many years, this is at last a reality. The Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad Company, subsidiary of the U. S. Steel Corporation, has started shipping prefabricated metal farm buildings to Alabama, Georgia and South Carolina.

These seem to be complete rural outfits. Every unit includes five buildings—a dwelling, barn, chicken house, outdoor pantry and sanitary accommodations. The typical house has a living room, three bedrooms and a combination kitchen and dining room, and has necessary closets, pantry and space for a bathroom. The dwelling contains six tons of steel. This basic material is used in the foundation structure, the frame, sides, roof, outside doors, window trim and fireplaces. The inside doors and floors are of wood. An insulated wall board is used for interior finish on walls and ceiling. Wooden floors are supported on steel joists.

Erecting such a prefabricated building is an assembly process. The parts merely have to be bolted together, and this is quickly done without expert help. The buildings will be available in various designs and dimensions, and rooms can be added at any time. The cost is said to be low enough to compete with ordinary buildings of wood, brick, plaster, etc.

This development might result in a big wave of simple, sanitary and vermin-proof construction, especially in southern areas.

GUILTY ADULTS

The report of the Children's Bureau of the Department of Labor that juvenile delinquency cases increased 11 per cent in 1937 is not quite so discouraging as it seems. It does not necessarily mean that 11 per cent more children got into trouble of one sort or another.

"Information obtained from a number of courts," explains the bureau, "indicates that a variety of factors contribute to the variations from year to year in the number of delinquency cases disposed of. These factors include changes in the administrative procedures of the courts, changes in the policies of the police departments and other agencies in referring cases to the courts, and changes in the relationship of the courts to the other agencies in the communities."

In spite of this aspect of the situation, it is tragic that 31,038 children in a single year had to appear before the courts. Society itself should have been arraigned with most of those boys and girls for its crimes of neglect and indifference. The school, the church, the neighborhood, the home, the law, have all been at fault in creating or permitting the causes of delinquency.

BETTER BOX CARS

Another detail in the modernization of railroads now going on is the improvement of freight cars. They are being made simpler, stronger, lighter and yet probably more durable, as a result of using welded steel which is strong and non-rusting. On every car made by this new process there is a saving of four tons in weight.

This lightness in itself is very important, amounting to about one-fifth of the weight of present-day box cars. It means less wear and tear on track and roadbed and a big increase in the number of cars that a locomotive can haul.

Such developments may do for freight transportation what the new, fast, streamlined passenger trains are already doing for human traffic. It is evident that railroading has entered a new era. The chief problem remaining, perhaps, is to lighten and streamline the financial structure of the roads.

STOPPING ARCHEOLOGY

In recent years archeologists have been making remarkable progress in Palestine. They have unearthed much valuable evidence of the life of Biblical times.

At Lachish, for example, important writings on papyrus have been found, actual records from the period of Jeremiah. Farther south an expedition has unearthed churches containing the first documents on papyrus ever found in Palestine. French scientists in another section have been learning many facts about the campaigns of Joshua. Another group last year found a copper smelting plant at the site of King Solomon's seaport at the head of the Red Sea and hoped to dig into other important ruins during the coming year.

Today much of this research is endangered by the war in Palestine. Most of the expeditions are abandoning all further work for the present. War is an all-round destroyer. It hampers our efforts to understand the past while it endangers the future and disrupts constructive contemporary effort.

THAT BODY OF YOURS

By James W. Barton, M.D.

Registered in accordance with the Copyright Act.
 NOT SIGNS OF HEART DISEASE.

As heart disease stands first in causing death, it is only natural that any little symptom at or near the heart may cause concern or worry.

Practically everybody now knows that the first sign of a failing heart is getting out of breath easily, and when breathlessness occurs, the heart is suspected, where, in a great many cases, it is a blocked nose, overweight, overeating, or eating too much acid food that causes the breathlessness.

Another early symptom is swelling of the feet and this may occur without being due to the heart. Many individuals consult their physician and even after being assured that their heart is normal insist upon consulting a heart specialist and having an electrocardiograph reading and an examination under the fluoroscope. After this examination by their physician and heart specialist, they usually become satisfied that they have no heart disease.

While there are symptoms present in heart disease other than breathlessness and swelling of the feet, there are a number of symptoms commonly considered as "heart" symptoms that have nothing to do with the heart whatever. These are called "inconsequential" symptoms by Dr. Philip Morgan, Emporia, in the Journal of the Kansas Medical Society.

"Sighing, fainting, dizziness, roaring or ringing in ears, tender flesh over the heart, gas on the stomach and belching, 'jump in the throat,' cough and weak attacks," sudden attacks of breathlessness, "burning pain around the chest," "anxiety (not pain) in left shoulder and arm," "all these and others are among the outstanding complaints given by persons who are concerned about their hearts but in whom no heart disease is found on careful study. Sighing, for instance, usually marks him who does it as a restless, bored, inward-looking person."

The thought then is that the above symptoms are of no consequence as far as the heart is concerned and no attention should be given them.

When a walk or other exercise or work to which one has been accustomed begins to cause breathlessness and is not taken immediately after eating, then it would be worth while to consult a physician about the heart.

THE ARMY POST MURDERS

By Virginia Hanson

The Characters
 Katherine Cornish, myself, visiting Elizabeth on a mid-western Army post.
 Elizabeth, Colonel Wright's daughter.
 Adam Drew, acting commanding officer.

Yesterday: Elizabeth was the one who shot at home when Anne was shot, but Annie says she was there too.

Chapter 24

A Woman Screams

ADAM continued to question Annie.

Annie Carewe had looked to him like a girl in trouble. As a good friend of Anne's mother—as almost a relative—did she know why?

Rage shook the little body suddenly. Venom gleamed in the murky eyes. Prying, and into the secrets of the dead, was he? He could be better employed. And as for asking her, he might as well ask the man in the moon. She'd be likely to hear of it, now, wouldn't she? She—the colonel's maid of all work.

Adam begged her pardon most humbly. His chagrin was so touching that she calmed a little. But if there had been anything else he wanted to ask her the outburst had driven it from his mind.

She took her own departure, not waiting to be dismissed.

She rose. "I'll be leaving you," she said and suited the action to the words. There was a pathetic dignity to the little figure as its dusty black as she disappeared from the room.

Adam rather avoided my eye and his manner did not encourage comment. I watched him pace the floor a couple of turns, then swing rather abruptly to the telephone.

He required first about his call to the Omaha bank president, then asked for the hospital.

"Better," he told me after he had hung up. "Still hopeful. I feel like a heel not to tell some of these people. But how can you know you're talking to?" He sighed. "I'm afraid the banker is out—for the week end."

He lifted the receiver again, announced that he would be at the Officers' Club until further notice and hung up.

"And now for Charlie."

There was a rather determined grin on his face, like a comedian with the toothache. The grin froze there suddenly, exposing all his teeth as he caught some horrid muscular spasm. It was as much the sight of him as the sound of Lou Orpington's screaming that sent little icy rivulets flowing down my back and along my arms to the tips of my fingers.

Adam was suddenly gone bounding away miles ahead of me in a scolding, shamelessly after him to wait, but of course he didn't hear me.

She couldn't be badly hurt. I decided dispassionately, for only a well woman could go on screaming like that.

They were in the kitchen—Lou, Barney, the Shaws, Mrs. Flower. The room seemed to be full of them. I dashed in pell mell, aware that Annie and Elizabeth were coming behind me. And then I halted, arrested by their complete stillness, their silence. They were just looking at something on the floor, something pale and sticky and drenched in a messy, opaque fluid that was forming a puddle around it.

"It was in the freezer—in the ice cream," Lou was explaining in a high-pitched, hysterical voice. "I was going to taste it—I almost did—then I felt something with the ladle and fished it out."

Adam was bending down, not touching it.

Malay Kris
 "Did you have your hands on it?" he asked.

"Why, yes, on the handle." "No, my dear, I'm afraid not."

Elizabeth said, "Let me see," softly behind me.

I stepped aside and watched her turn an unearthly shade of green as her eyes rested on the weapon.

"No, I won't faint," she said, shaking off someone's hand. "I'm all right. You—you've recognized it, of course?"

She did not seem to be speaking to anyone in particular, but Adam, bright eyed, noncommittal, glanced up and said, "Do you?"

"Yes," she said bravely. "Yes—it's a Fairbairn-Sydney."

The thing that bothered me the most about that knife was that the questioning would start all over again. Had they missed it? How long since Annie had last dusted it? Who had been in the house—who had access to it? Who could have put it in the ice-cream freezer and when?

 I had hard work to keep from putting my hands over my ears while Adam went dutifully about his job, looking as if he'd be glad to hand it over to anyone who wanted it. I paid as little attention as I could, and I didn't miss much. There wasn't much to miss.
 Anne, either conveniently or otherwise, was unable to recall when she had last seen the knife. It hung on the wall of the colonel's study, and she didn't try to dust all the knickknacks every day—she'd enough to do without that. She cast a cold glance at the knife-knack at her feet and opined that it might have been gone for a week, she wouldn't know.
 Elizabeth was equally vague. Her father might know when he came—which would be only a few hours now.

The opportunity for its concealment promised more, but came to nothing. At first glance only Barney, Annie and Elizabeth had been in the kitchen since the short sword had been used. Then Mrs. Orpington reminded us not to forget dear Miss Cornish, and Adam remembered somewhat disingenuously that he too, had been in the kitchen, and Barney pointed out that Shaw had gone there to summon Annie and Elizabeth.

Mary Shaw, Lou Orpington and Mrs. Flower had followed Barney and Shaw to forage for food, and it was Mrs. Flower who remarked pleasantly that either of them might have hidden the knife elsewhere, backstage only to retrieve it and insert it in the freezer while no one was looking.

"Though why Lou should call attention to it—if she hid it, I can't imagine," she added naively. "Unless it was all part of a Plan."

Lou, recovered from her hysterics, remarked acidly that the kitchen had been vacant for some time and that it was not without the realms of possibility that someone from outside might have stolen in by the stage entrance, concealed the knife and gone away unseen. She would mention no names, she said, but her glance just flicked me maliciously in passing. Was she hinting at good teamwork on the part of Charlie and me?

Demoralized
 MRS. FLOWER pointed out vaguely that it would seem much simpler just to conceal the knife somewhere outdoors; and this inconceivable point went unanswered.

My opinion of Mrs. Flower's intelligence had undergone radical changes during the past few hours. Like the plain warp backing a brilliantly patterned rug, a strong thread of common sense underlay much of her highly colored conversation. What was she really thinking?

Abruptly Adam dismissed us. He shooed us out of the room like a flock of chickens and shut the door, remaining inside. When he came out, locking the room and pocketing the key, he was still huddled in the narrow corridor that led to the door beside the stage.

I don't know why we clung together so desperately; there was no more reason to believe that we were banded against an outside threat than that the threat was within the room, less reason, in fact. But some of us, at least, were thoroughly demoralized.

The building echoed hollowly as we crossed the empty dance floor. I glanced up fearfully toward the balcony. There was a light burning somewhere up there, and something moved against it. I caught my breath and leaned weakly against one of the narrow pillars.

"It's all right," Adam murmured quickly. He waited until the others were out of earshot, his hand steady and comforting on my arm. "I put two men on guard up there. Don't come while you women were in the dressing room and we decided to leave the body here for the present. She—she was killed instantly—straight through the heart."

I shivered. "It's all right to leave then?"

"Yes. There's no use staying on."

Bleak and forbidden, the big room had withdrawn from festivity, was waiting for our departure to summon its ghosts. I glanced up at the crossed swords, the regimental emblems against the balcony railing. Three times violent death had struck within these walls. Anne died there would be three women in white to walk the corridors.

"Let's go," I begged. I clutched his arm urgently, feeling through the heavy duvet sleeve his pulse beating, warm, vital, alive against my finger tips.

He looked at me for a minute with an odd half smile on his lips. Then, "Right," he said cheerfully. (Copyright 1938 Virginia Hanson)

HUDSON RIVER STEAMBOATS

These articles are written from the collection of George W. Murdock, veteran marine engineer.

No. 68—SUNNYSIDE

It was 2 o'clock in the morning, just 68 years ago today, December 1, 1875, that the magnificent steamboat "Sunnyside" met her fate. This memorable early morning disaster which claimed many lives, still remains a vivid picture in the memory of George W. Murdock, who was a member of the crew of the ill-fated vessel.

The wooden hull of the "Sunnyside" was built by C. R. Pollock of Williamsburg, New York, in 1866. The vessel was 247 feet, six inches long, with a 35 foot, four inch breadth of beam. She was rated at 942 gross tons and was powered by an engine with a cylinder diameter of 56 inches, with a 13 foot stroke, built by S. Secor & Company of New York.

The "Sunnyside" and "Sleepy Hollow" were sister steamboats, built for service on the lower Hudson river, running in passenger service between Sing Sing and New York. Both vessels were fine examples of modern steamboat construction of that period and both were possessed of good speed. They began operating in the spring of 1866, making landings at Yonkers, Irvington and Tarrytown, with one vessel and covering the identical route but extending to Grassy Point with the other vessel. This double service continued until July of the following year (1867), when the "Sunnyside" was placed in operation running to Newburgh for the balance of the season, and was then laid up.

In July, 1870, Joseph Cornell in partnership with Captain Black, bought the "Sunnyside" at auction for $45,000. She was then converted into a night boat and placed on the Catskill route, continuing in service on this route for the balance of that season and through the year 1871. She made a landing at Catskill on alternate days with the "Thomas Powell," which plied the Hudson river only as far as Catskill.

During the winter of 1871-1872, Joseph Cornell, George Horton and Thomas Abrams organized the Citizens' Line, placing the "Sunnyside" and "Thomas Powell" in service in opposition to J. W. Hancock, who was operating the "C. Vanderbilt" and the "Connecticut." In July, 1872, the Hancock steamboats were withdrawn and the Citizens' Line was without opposition.

The "Sunnyside" was one of the fastest night boats carrying staterooms on the Hudson river during that period, and in July, 1874, she made the run from New York to Troy in eight hours and 55 minutes.

The hand of fate seemed to hover over the "Sunnyside" almost from the time she first slid into the waters of the Hudson river. She met with numerous accidents during her career, some of little consequence, while others caused damage to the vessel and claimed lives of some unfortunate.

One night, on her down trip from Troy, in the latter part of May, 1874, the "Sunnyside" collided with the abutment of the Congress street bridge at Troy, striking in her port starboard boiler which was located on her stern.

The ensuing accident caused the death of one man, in November of the same year she ran aground on Fish-house bar between Troy and Albany, striking with such force that she stove a hole in her hull and almost sank. During the month of August, 1875, she caught fire from spontaneous combustion in some loaves of cotton on her main deck, but the flames were discovered in ample time to avert serious damage.

On Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock on November 30, 1875, the "Sunnyside" left Troy for her last trip of the season, and what later proved to be the final sailing of her career. The following account is told by George W. Murdock, a member of the crew on this last trip, who was an eye-witness to the fateful voyage and who narrowly escaped the clutches of death which claimed many victims in that early morning catastrophe.

We left New York Monday, November 29, and headed up river with a heavy cargo of freight. The thermometer in New York registered from 40 to 45 degrees above zero at the time we left the dock. Coming up the river, the temperature rapidly changed, becoming much colder until at Kingston we began pushing our way through thin ice. We arrived at Troy Tuesday morning, November 30, with the thermometer registering zero. Uploading was accomplished as quickly as possible with the temperature hovering at zero throughout the day.

On reaching Albany we took the steamboat "Golden Gate" in tow to follow us down the river. We broke through the drift ice from Troy to Kinderhook, there encountering solid ice. The steamboat "Niagara," with a tow of canal boats and several schooners lay ice-bound at this place. We left the "Golden Gate" also ice-bound, and backed and filled several times, breaking a course through the ice and relieving the ice-bound fleet; after which we proceeded down the river.

At Barrytown it was discovered that our vessel was leaking, and the pumps were started. At Esopus Island we ran through clear water which had formed away the ice which had been about the hole which had been made on the port side when we had crashed through the ice at Kinderhook. We were off West Park and endeavored to make shore at Russell's dock, as we were leaking badly by this time. The "Sunnyside" went through thick ice on the west bank of the river, but the ice did not break up until the vessel was filled with water, and all that remained out of water was about 40 feet of the hurricane deck aft.

This was 2 o'clock in the morning and the weather was bitter cold, the thermometer registering five below zero. Captain Teson, in charge of the "Sunnyside," ordered the boats to be lowered, sending Mate Burhouse in charge of the first one. It capsize, drowning 11 out of 13 passengers and crew. The mate was ashore when we succeeded in getting a line ashore from the steamboat and so established a rope ferry. It was now 5 o'clock in the morning.

In this fashion we pulled the life boat through the ice and the passengers and crew of the ill-fated steamboat were landed on snow-covered shore of Ulster county. They climbed the rocks along the shore and made their way to the farm houses in the vicinity where every attention was given them, but several died from the results of too long exposure.

Among those lost were Sarah Butler and Susan Rex (colored), of New York, chambermaids; John Howard (colored), of New York, officers' waiter; Samuel Puteage (colored), waiter, of New York; Matthew Johnson (colored), of Albany; George Green (colored), second cook, of Norwich, Connecticut; Mrs. Haywood of Tenafly, N. J.; Mrs. Stewart of New York, Mrs. Walker of Troy, an Irish girl called Bridget, resident of Jersey City; and an unknown peddler of silks and jewelry.

At the request of my uncle, Abram Parcell, of Port Ewen, who was chief engineer on the "Sunnyside," I set out aloft for Port Ewen at 6 o'clock on that bleak morning of December 1, to break the news of the disaster to his wife and the people of the town.

At that time the thermometer had gone down to six degrees below zero and hiking that distance of about 10 miles was rather a task. Stories of the tragic accident had already arrived at Port Ewen so my news that my uncle was safe was joyously received by his many friends in the town.

The crew of the "Sunnyside" were: Captain, Frank Teson of Lansingburg; first pilot, Robert Whitaker of Saugerties; second pilot, Watson Dutcher of New York; mate, Jacob Burhouse of Troy; chief engineer, Abram Parcell of Port Ewen; assistant engineer, Jerry Deyo of Port Ewen; purser, John Talmadge of New Baltimore; steward, George Wolcott of New York; freight clerk, Edward Johnson of Troy.

The "Sunnyside" was raised and her hull broken up, while her engines were placed in the steamboat "Saratoga."

 On Their Way

"GOOD-NIGHT, good-winter," growled Jelly Bear. "I'll tell you in the spring how much I enjoyed this dinner. I can't say anything more now—I'm too sleepy."

"The way we all feel," growled the Jupiter. Honey Bear, Blacky and Chubby didn't say a word. They just nodded their heads but they didn't even do that very much.

Little sleepy nods.

The Puddle Muddlers followed them up to their cave.

"It's a good thing it's such a short distance," cackled Top Notch, in his practical roosterish fashion. "Otherwise they'd never make it. Their eyes are half-closed now."

"Just then Honey Bear stumbled over a rut and fell. 'Get up, get up,' shouted the Puddle Muddlers. 'You're almost there.'"

"It's such a long walk," growled the cub Chubby. "It's a very short walk," cackled Top Notch, but you're not in the best mood for exercise."

"Here we are," said Willy Nilly. The bears stumbled into their cave.

"Do you see my surprise?" bleated Sweet Face excitedly. "Surprise?" asked Honey Bear. "Have you more food? I believe I'm too sleepy to eat."

"You are sleepy, then?" exclaimed Top Notch. "Don't you see my surprise?" asked Sweet Face again. "Oh yes," murmured Honey Bear. "You're a lamb, Sweet Face."

"That," cackled Top Notch, "is a true fact, but I don't see the surprise."

Tomorrow—"Sweet Face's Surprise."

Washington Daybook

By FREDSON GROVER

WASHINGTON—The State Department always has been the aristocracy of government service—at least to those outside looking in—and this, coupled with the new emphasis now placed on Latin American relations, has brought on a fever of ambitious yearnings among young federalists.

Exciting to the lads who want to do big things in the government is the unheralded but sensational rise of young Lawrence Duggan. In five years this slender son of Harvard bounded from his first State Department job to chief of the division of American republics—some of the top-rung places in the career service. And he is only 33.

Scores of promising college graduates are examined each year by the State Department for the half-dozen openings in the career service and numbers of employees of other departments take after-hour training in foreign service schools hopeful that the lightning will strike them. (Imagine the thrill of being sent to Berlin as third secretary of legation or assigned to romantic Buenos Aires.)

Duggan Had Advantages

DUGGAN had something of a flying start. He had a plentiful background of family scholarship to begin with. His father, Stephen Duggan, is professor of political science at the College of the City of New York, and director of a half-dozen scholarly and diplomatic societies, including the council on foreign relations of the league of nations association, and the Institute of International Education.

The Institute sent young Duggan to South America in 1924 to expand its work there. He learned a lot, made a favorable impression, and within a year was chosen by the State Department as research assistant in the Latin American division. His pay was $3,200 to begin with, quite a leap above most starting aspirants, who do well if they push above $2,000 at the kick-off.

Duggan worked at his job by day and studied at night, won the attention of Sumner Welles, Under Secretary of State, and tried to shed useless elements of a slightly shy disposition. By 1934 he was bringing home $4,600 a year. By Sept. 1, 1935, he drew $6,500 as assistant chief, and two months later he headed the division at $8,000 a year. He was only 30 then. Even yet, at 33, he is the youngest executive in the department.

Replaces Old Glow

DUGGAN puts back a rosy glow that vanished for many an old timer in the department long ago. But regardless of what happens to its members the romance is evident from the inside out. And you couldn't shoot the insiders outside for almost any job on earth. Recently one of the senior members hove in from out Java with a gruesome story or two of the trials and tribulations of life astride the equator. But for every poison snake that scared the wife into hysterics there was a story of other experiences vibrant with oriental color. And the guy had 17 servants.

Duggan hasn't been out in the field yet to win his spurs in a foreign diplomatic post. That will come later. At present he is the specialist who will sit at the elbow of the Secretary of State at the Pan American conference at Lima. He's in the big time, on diplomatic Broadway.

Man About Manhattan

By George Tucker

NEW YORK—For a long time now I have been buying my peanuts from Ray Kinney. Mr. Kinney sells Hawaiian peanuts and a very fine peanut they are. Of course I realize you may not like Hawaiian peanuts, and in that case you do not have to take them. For on this island there are many fine peanut stands, and all of them offer a wide and extraordinary selection to choose from.

There is, for example, Mr. Jimmy Dorsey's peanut stand. He sells a sort of sweetish peanut with a swing to it. Then there is Mr. Benny Goodman's stand. His goobers are altogether swing. I have various Cuban and South American friends who retail a peanut with a rhythmic and fascinating rhumba hump.

BUT I intend to string along with Kinney for awhile. I sail for the palm trees and the steel guitar. To me, the gentle swish of a little grass skirt is infinitely more desirable than the calm detachment of an Alice blue gown. Let the shrill Harlem trumpets go past. I will tune my ear to a vagrant trade wind. And while you are off looking for Flat Foot Floogie I will rest in the shade by the long blue lagoon and let the cocoanuts bounce off my head.

And so with a friendly nod to the Lombardos and all others I would like to suggest that the most pleasing influence on popular music in New York during the last couple of years has been Hawaiian. It wasn't sudden, like a war or a flood, and for that reason it hasn't gone out like a Johnny One Note. It was gradual and imperceptible, and it insinuated itself so subtly into the popular fancy that you never suspected or saw it coming.

The man largely responsible for this pleasant state of affairs is Ray Kinney. A year and a half ago he arrived in this town practically unknown. He opened the now famous Hawaiian room, and he caught on.

OF COURSE if there hadn't been a Hawaiian room there wouldn't be a definite Hawaiian trend in New York today. But Charley I ochester believed in the idea so strongly that he sent for Jac Lessman and told him to go ahead and build a room that would suit every need. Charley Rochester is managing director of the Lexington hotel, and Lessman is a famous interior decorator.

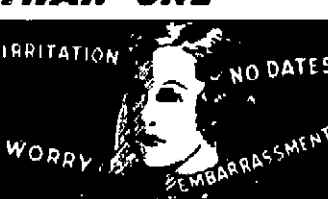

This room was the springboard for what New York likes to regard as a fine personality. For Kinney's fan mail is now enormous, and the postman doesn't ring your door very often unless he thinks a lot of you.

World consumption of cotton in 1938-39 is not expected to exceed the 26.1 million bales consumed the season before.

Peasant and Queen In War on Malady

Disease Makes 'Living Mummies' of Humans.

ROME — A humble Bulgarian shepherd, a queen and an Italian microbe hunter have been revealed here as the key-figures in a dramatic struggle to find a cure for a mysterious disease which reduces humans to virtual "living mummies."

The disease is known here as Parkinsonian encephalitis, a form of paralysis that has ravaged the world unchecked for years.

The peasant is Ivan Ralf. He dug up the root of the Belladonna plant, brewed it with wine and worked astounding treatments among Bulgarian paralytics.

The queen is her majesty, Queen Helen of Italy. She was induced by one of her ladies-in-waiting—whose paralytic brother had been aided by the cure—to lift a police ban on use of treatment in Italy.

The microbe hunter is Dr. Giuseppe Panegrossi, noted Italian nervous disease specialist. He developed the discovery of the untutored Bulgarian peasant.

The 64-year-old physician disclosed that in the past four years he has used the treatment on nearly 1,500 patients suffering from a disease which he claimed is still one of the mysteries of medical science in other countries.

"Where the disease exists in mild form," he said, "I have had a 68 per cent virtual cure while in all cases there has been a definite improvement."

The drug is not a complete cure, the physician emphasized, because "while great benefits are achieved" the treatments must be continued or the virus gains the ascendancy.

'Nebraska Man' Aged 1,000 Years, Bones Show

LINCOLN, NEB.—A new type ancient Nebraskan characterized by a long, narrow skull has been discovered by Dr. Earl H. Bell, assistant professor of anthropology at the University of Nebraska.

The discovery was made during excavations conducted near Ponca, Stanton and O'Neill in northeastern Nebraska. Doctor Bell estimates that the race, believed to be representatives of the Woodland culture, lived in the area perhaps a thousand years ago.

New information uncovered by a summer's digging proves definitely, the anthropologist asserted, that Nebraska is the farthest west these ancient people have been found. He believes this culture is related to the Oneota, which is found from western Wisconsin through northern and central Iowa.

"The tribes near Stanton had stone, copper and iron arrow points in addition to copper vessels," Doctor Bell said. "Glass beads and flasks, found in abundance, clearly indicated either direct or indirect contact with white men."

Classroom Banks Used For Lessons in Thrift

CLEVELAND.—Third grade children have their own banks in the Cleveland public school system. The children learn thrift habits by undertaking all the operations of the classroom banks.

Pupils, behind a series of desks, act as tellers. A young depositor must have 25 cents and a card signed by his parents to open an account. Any amount can be deposited, but most of the deposits are nickels and dimes.

The children are taught what a certain amount of money will buy and to judge for themselves what article or articles will give them the most value for their money under different circumstances. For instance, they learn that a dime will buy one of the rides, a quart of milk, a loaf of bread, a pocket handkerchief, a toy, a book, or two ice cream cones.

Story of Canine-Crime And Timely Repentance

ERIE, PA.—Here is a dog story of crime, punishment and repentance.

A cat at the home of Sebastian Cassarino recently gave birth to kittens and Mickey, a fox terrier, playfully picked up one of the balls of fur and shook it hard.

All its nine lives couldn't save it. The Cassarino family, horrified, immediately chastised Mickey who fled from the home yelping. The next morning the dog returned with a squirming kitten in its mouth.

The Cassarinos have not been able to find out who owns the kitten so they have adopted it.

Mickey is letting those kittens strictly alone.

Five Generations Carve Initials on Ancient Tree

HOUSATONIC, MASS.—On the trunk of a birch tree, estimated to be 150 years old, are scores of carved initials—including those representing five generations of the Turner family.

Latest members of the family to carve their initials were Miss Jane and Miss Mollie Turner of Washington. They were led to the tree by Noble B. Turner, their grandfather, who will be 90 in November. He carved his initials there in 1862, and his father did likewise in 1848.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press)

Cleveland—Elmer Kotulik, 20, performed the best juggling act of the week.

He was sitting in the rear seat of a sedan with a bowl of goldfish on his lap when the car was involved in a collision.

Kotulik was hurled over the front seat, but as he sailed forward he held the fish bowl tightly against the car's ceiling.

Result: Kotulik, bowl, water and fish remained intact.

Then both dog and money-changer disappeared.

"As I had no gun to kill her with, it was up to me to run her down, so I did," Ehn said. "I caught her by the neck within 20 feet of the trap."

New Palitz Man Heir to $35,000

New York, Nov. 30.—(Special)—Charles P. Staats of New Palitz receives $35,000 from the estate left by his father, the late Henry Staats of New York, whose property was appraised today by the state transfer tax department. He will also receive an additional fund of $20,000 at the death of his mother.

Mr. Staats, who died August 15, 1926 at the age of 85, left a trust fund of $10,000 for his wife, Adeline C. Staats, of New York. He divided the residual estate between two children, the New Palitz beneficiaries, and Mrs. Anna Saul.

Property left by the decedent was appraised today at $162,755 gross value, $110,515 net.

Much has been said and written as to how one would want to spend his last hours. As a matter of fact, the most desirable way to pass them would be in not knowing that death was near.

Patterns in Pineapple*UPSIDE-DOWN CAKE

1/2 cup triple-cream shortening, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1/2 cup sugar, 1 egg, unbeaten, 1 1/4 cups sifted flour, 1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder, 1/2 cup canned pineapple juice, 1/2 cup yellow sugar, firmly packed, 5 slices canned pineapple and 5 maraschino cherries (optional).

Combine shortening, salt and vanilla. Add sugar gradually and cream until light and fluffy. Add egg and beat thoroughly. Sift flour and baking powder together three times. Add small amounts of flour to creamed mixture, alternately with pineapple juice, beating thoroughly after each addition.

Sprinkle yellow sugar on bottom of deep pan (8" x 8"), which has been well greased. Arrange pineapple slices on sugar, place cherries in center of slices and pour batter over all. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) about 1 hour. Serve upside-down with whipped cream. Serves 9.

BANANA FAN SALAD

Here's another picture pattern—as effective to look at as it is tasty to eat. Different fruits go to make the picture; but the same method holds true—contrasts in colors, shapes, textures and flavor. This salad, of course, is one of those "last minute" affairs that you simply arrange quickly before seating the guests at the table. Such a salad makes an ideal dish to serve at an afternoon or evening bridge party with salted wafers and a cup of tea or coffee.

RECIPE (for 1)

1/2 canned peach, pear or apricot, 1 ripe banana, lettuce and a canned cherry or berry.

Place fruit half in a lettuce cup, arranging at back of salad plate. Garnish with cherry or berry. Peel and cut banana lengthwise into 3 slices and place across front of salad plate, spreading slices to resemble a fan. Serve with mayonnaise.

'Do You Can Chicken?'

Some homemakers do, and some homemakers don't can chicken at home. But if you're so fortunate as to have a flock of chickens, you may find that it pays big dividends to cull the flock and can the culls. I haven't nearly enough room to tell you exactly how this is done; but I do want to make a few suggestions. Boneless chicken is more practical to can since the bones take up so much space in the jar. However, the manner in which you plan to use the chicken will determine the method you use when canning it. Boneless chicken is, of course, for use when making chicken à la king, creamed chicken, sandwiches, salads, croquettes, etc.

Canning chicken is not an easy task—nor yet a difficult one. But it does require time and patience and care. Be sure that every ingredient that goes into the jar molds and pour the consommé over them. Chill. Unmold on crisp lettuce and serve with mayonnaise.

PAN ROASTED OYSTERS

1 pint oysters, 2 tablespoons melted butter, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 1/2 teaspoon thick seasoning sauce, 1/4 cup chili sauce, 1/4 teaspoon chili powder, 1/2 cup cream and buttered toast.

Place oysters in skillet with melted butter. Add dry seasonings and cook over low heat 2 or 3 minutes or until oysters are plump and edges begin to curl. Arrange oysters on buttered toast. Add seasoning sauces and cream to liquor in pan. Heat thoroughly and pour over oysters. Serve at once.

SARDINE RABBIT

1 tablespoon butter, 1 tablespoon flour, 1 cup milk, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 1/4 teaspoon dry mustard, 1/2 pound graded American cheese, 1 tin sardines and buttered toast.

Melt butter in top part of double boiler. Blend in flour and add milk gradually, stirring until thick and smooth. Season with salt, pepper and mustard and stir in cheese. Serve on buttered toast, lavishly garnished with sardines which have been placed under very hot broiler flame for 2 or 3 minutes. Serves 4.

BRAN CORN BREAD WITH BACON

1 egg, slightly beaten, 1/4 cup granulated sugar, 1/2 cup all bran, 1 cup cornmeal, 1 cup milk, 1 cup flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon baking powder and 1/4 pound diced bacon.

Combine egg and sugar thoroughly. Add bran, cornmeal and milk. Sift dry ingredients and add to first mixture. Pour into greased pan. Sprinkle bacon over top. Bake for about 20 minutes in a moderate oven (375° F.). Brown the crust and crisp the bacon by placing the bread under the broiler for a few minutes.

COFFEE BISCUIT TORTONI

1/4 cup cold coffee, 1 cup milk, 2 tablespoons sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 cup dry macaroon crumbs, 1 cup cream, whipped, 1/4 teaspoon vanilla extract.

Add coffee to milk, bring to boil—let stand 10 minutes and strain through double cheesecloth. Add sugar, salt and half of macaroon crumbs and let stand 1 hour. Fold in whipped cream and vanilla. Fill paper soufflé cups with the mixture and sprinkle tops with remaining macaroon crumbs. Put cups in refrigerator freezing tray for 6-8 hours. Serves 8.

PINEAPPLE UPSIDE-DOWN CAKE

is of the highest quality. Check the jars themselves to make sure that they are perfect. Jar rings and rubbers should be checked also. If you do decide to can chicken with the bones, then you will find that the straight sided jars are easier to pack the chicken into. Check the time and temperature of your pressure cooker. Don't trust to luck when canning chicken.

Group to Start Health Program

The cooperation with the campaign for better rural health, the Grange, Home Bureau and health officer of the town are sponsoring a program of lectures and sound movies at the Stone Ridge Grange Hall Monday evening, December 5.

The program, scheduled for 8.15 o'clock, will include the showing of three sound moving pictures that come to the organizations from the New York state department of health, along with the projection equipment and operators. The first film to be shown will be "Science in Modern Medicine," a film showing the methods and effectiveness of various measures to combat syphilis. It will be preceded by an authoritative lecture on the same subject. Following this is a film showing the potential danger resultant from a laxity in immunization against diphtheria. "Let My People Live," the last film on the program, concerns the preventive measures that may be taken to protect one's self and family against tuberculosis.

The organizations presenting this program especially wish to invite parents, teachers and town officials to this presentation. There will be no admission charged. You owe it to yourself, your children and your community to attend the program at Stone Ridge Grange Hall on the evening of Monday, December 5.

To Admit 15,000

Canberra, Australia, Dec. 1 (AP)—The Australian government will admit 15,000 European refugees within the next three years. Minister of the Interior John McEwen told the House of Representatives today. Cooperating with Great Britain in the empire's international effort to alleviate the plight of German Jews, Australia will give preference to those able to establish new industries.

Ask Doctor About This Ideal Way To Lose Fat

READ EVERY WORD

Make up your mind now that you'll lose some of that ugly fat and really enjoy life. No one can blame you if you don't want to take harmful drugs, go on starvation diets and do backbreaking exercises. No sane woman would! And for sensible women like yourself who really want to reduce yet don't expect miracles overnight—who are willing to patiently follow a most simple, inexpensive and pleasant 28 day plan (women considerably overweight naturally require longer periods), we suggest this easy plan.

First of all go light on fatty foods and sweets. Eat plentifully of lean meats, fresh fruits and vegetables. And for proper functioning be sure to take a half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in hot water every morning. And let's get this straight right now about Kruschen—

It is not harmful. It is NOT just one salt as some people may ignorantly believe. Look on the box! You'll see it is a blend of 6 active mineral salts, which when dissolved in water is similar to the famous medicinal waters of European Spas where wealthy fat people have gone for years.

A jar of Kruschen costs but a few cents and makes 5 gallons of marvelous health water. Get a jar RIGHT AWAY! At Franklin Pharmacy and druggists everywhere.

New Automobile Insurance Plan Is Effective Today

Beginning today automobile drivers, who have no accidents during the past 21 months will receive a reduction in insurance rates on policies covering personal injuries and property damage. This new rate applies only to pleasure cars and places all pleasure cars in one group instead of in two classes as heretofore. The old rate locally was $42 for small cars and $43.50 a year on larger cars. While the driver who has been free from accidents will receive a benefit for his freedom from accidents the driver, who has had accidents will have to pay a higher rate according to the nature of the accidents.

Locally the rate announced by Superintendent of Insurance Louis H. Pink will be $40 based on policies covering $5,000 and $10,000 bodily injury liability and $5,000 property damage. The new Class A rate for bodily injury, based on $5,000 and $10,000 is $33 against the old rate of $35, a reduction of 5.7 per cent.

The Class A rate for property damage, based on $5,000 coverage will be $7. The old rate for property damage was $7 for smaller bracket cars and $8.50 for the higher cars. Thus the average reduction for property damage by placing all cars in one class under the new scheme will be 2.1 per cent.

The driver who has been unfortunate to have had accidents in the previous 21 months or whose car has been involved in accidents while being driven by an authorized driver within that period, will find his premium higher. These higher rates apply to a period of 21 months predicated on a period three months prior to the expiration date of a policy. If you have had a bodily injury accident within three months prior to the expiration of a policy or property damage claim you will be classified as a Class A driver on the renewal for the ensuing year, but the next year you will become a Class B owner and pay that premium. This three months period gives the insurance companies an opportunity to investigate and keep clearing house records of accidents up to date.

Under the plan drivers are classified into A, B and C groups. Class A drivers are those who have had no accidents or one accident resulting in property damage only and will take the lowest rate. Class B drivers are those who have had one accident that resulted in bodily injury only, or one accident that resulted in both bodily injury and property damage. This class will pay 10% more than the Class A driver. Class C drivers are those who do not fall in either Class A or B because of accidents and they will pay 15% over the Class A rate. Locally the Class A rate for $5,000 and $10,000 bodily injury and $5,000 property damage insurance will be $40. Class B rate will be 10% higher or $44, while the Class C rate will be 15% higher than Class A, or $46.

The new schedule is expected to save motorists from $2,000,000 to $2,500,000 on private car insurance in the state and is also expected to make for safer and saner driving. The reduction in rates varies according to the region and is based on the number of accidents in any given territory.

Contrary to public belief a territory is not based on the number of accidents in the area but is based on the number of resident accidents. An accident in which a New York city car is involved in Ulster county does not go to the discredit of the local territory but the accident is charged back to the New York district in the fixing of the New York city rate.

New York city incidentally gets one of the biggest reductions in the new scheme, the bodily injury rate being reduced from $79 to $68 or 16.5 per cent. Property damage in New York is reduced from $15.50 to $14.50 or 6.5 per cent. There is but one increase in the state in bodily injury rate and that is in Rensselaer county. Property damage is increased in several sections.

Make-Up Dictator Changes Irish Map—And Gives Sidney Toler To The Chinese

1. Sidney Toler of Warrenton, Mo., looked natural when he dropped into Wally Westmore's studio.

2. The Paramount Studio make-up man felt like experimenting and went to work on Irish Sidney. The first step called for greasepaint and some expert brush work.

3. Toler's hair was the next objective—funny what a pair of shears will do to make a guy look oriental but this is a good example.

4. And here's "Liam Wong" Toler himself. Toler may be a movie Chinaman some day but Westmore was just practicing when he did this job.

4,000 Hunters Get Special Deer Licenses

Binghamton, N. Y., Dec. 1 (AP).—New York state opened three new counties to deer hunters today and thousands who answered the call bore "substitute" licenses and far outnumbered their intended quarry.

Of the 14 counties where deer can legally be taken now, three—Broome, Cortland and Steuben—drew their first week-long season in many years. It was there that "substitute" licenses were issued hunters.

In Broome county, conservation department officials estimated 3,000 hunters would go after some 800 buck deer and in Steuben county more than 4,000 hunters were given special mimeographed permit forms when the demand for regulation licenses far exceeded the supply.

In addition to the three newcomers, a 15-day season also opened today in Columbia, Delaware, Dutchess, Greene, Orange, Otsego, Putnam, Rensselaer, Schoharie, Sullivan and Ulster counties.

Conservation officials watched closely the effects of the season in Broome county—a proposed "proving ground" where they hoped to end the "poached land" controversy between hunters and landowners by formation of a Cooperative Association of Farmers and Sportsmen.

Forest Fire-Fighting Mules Are Taxied Over Mountains

"Where's the fire?" This truck-load of mules is off for a 60-mile-an-hour ride to wherever it may be.

By The AP Feature Service
Spokane, Wash.—Mechanization that drove him from highways and cornfields has come to the aid of the fire-fighting mule in the northwest mountains.

Mules rushed to forest fires this fall in special trucks received a large share of the credit from Major Evan W. Kelley, regional U. S. forester, for a good acreage-burned-over record.

Only 28 of 1,408 fires spread beyond 10 acres. Total acreage was 2,672 in Montana, Northern Idaho, and eastern Washington. Increased fire-spotting efficiency brought a necessity for finding ways to speed men and equipment to the fire lines, since seeing a fire doesn't help unless men can get there with equipment to put it out.

The pack mules ride to the fire area in trucks which can speed 60 miles an hour, 30 up a six per cent grade. The mules wear masks to protect them from winds at high speed.

Conservatives Win
London, Dec. 1 (AP).—Conservatives kept the parliamentary seat of the late Lord Stanley in the Fylde division of Lancashire today by winning a by-election with a majority slightly reduced from that of the previous election. The vote: Capt. C. G. Lancaster, Conservative, 38,263; Dr. Mabel Tylecote, labor, 17,648. The pre-election campaign was fought largely on the issue of prime minister Chamberlain's international policies. In 57 by-elections since the November, 1935, general election, the government has lost ten seats to labor and three to independents.

State Troopers Probe Entry Into Watson Hollow Cottage

Trooper Ray Dunn and Troopers Metzger and Reynolds of the B. C. I. yesterday were investigating a report by Mrs. Jennie Kerr that a cottage at Watson Hollow belonging to Mrs. Minnie Schrader of The Bronx had been broken into.

Mrs. Kerr said that she saw a strange man near the cottage and later found that a blind had been torn off and entry obtained by breaking a window. Mrs. Kerr said that the man she saw was about five feet eight inches in height, had a small moustache and wore brown overalls.

Tommy was in the habit of coming to the table with dirty hands, though he repeatedly was sent away to wash, he kept repeating the offense. One day his mother lost patience.

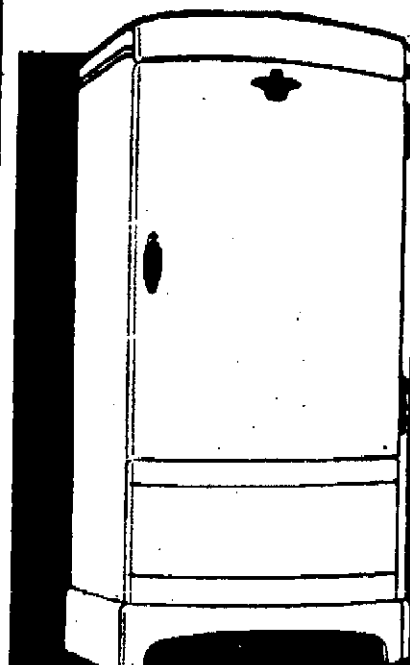

Mother—Tommy, why do you persist, week in and week out, in coming to the table without washing? You know I always send you away.

Tommy—Once, you forgot.

Meeting Plans Near Completion

Beside the eminent speaker, Dr. Joachim Prinz, the emergency relief committee has obtained the services of Cantor Pinchas Jassinsky to appear at the mass meeting at the Myron J. Michael School, December 8 at 8 p. m. He is an eminent composer having composed the "Prophecy of Isaiah" for the opening of the Hebrew University in Palestine, besides many other selections. Cantor Jassinsky was the first cantor to broadcast Jewish chants over a national radio hookup.

The widespread indignation on the part of the American public and press over the unprecedented villainous acts against the Jews and other minorities in Germany has given the refugee committee in Kingston reason to believe that the drive will be a success, the committee reports. "As we read news of newly perpetrated indignities," the sponsors state, "the public must realize that this is no ordinary appeal for charity, but an emergency call which is the cry of the persecuted. Gifts must be more than perfunctory, every dollar will be used to save life."

"The sentiment of this community and its realization of the need to aid the refugees has been very heartening. The committee feels that the urgency of the situation will speak for itself."

Gambling seems much more a sin when you lose than when you win.

Wife—"You seem disappointed with your package."
Husband—"Yes, I answered an advertisement for a device to keep grocery bills down—and the firm sent me a paper weight."

Greener (to clerk)—What are you doing with your feet on the desk?

Clerk—Economy, sir, I've lost my rubber heels.

Customer—Do you give a guarantee with this hair restorer?
Barber—Guarantee? Why, sir, we give a comb!

And now men have gone back to the soft shirt. You see, the times have taken the starch out of them.

Broken-Down Artist (to fellow boarder)—What's your line?
Other—I've just taken up story-writing.

Artist—Sold anything yet?
(Hoping he might have found a victim of whom he could make a touch).

Other—Oh, yes, my watch, my radio and my best overcoat.

Some boys waste a lot of time looking into the sky for heavenly bodies. Why not go to the bathing beaches?

Little David—Oh, mother, here's a little green snake.

Mother—Well, stay right away from it. It may be just as dangerous as a ripe one.

The babe of yesterday had a tough time of it, being bounced up and down on the lady caller's knee, but at that, it didn't run the risk of being burned by a cigarette.

Restaurant Patron—This steak is not very tender.

Tired Walter—Well, did you expect it to put its arms around your neck and kiss you?

Dentist—Now, Sambo, which tooth do you want extracted?
Pullman Porter—Lower seven, suh!

A young man was amazed to find out the girl he married had a violent temper.

One day he tackled her on the subject.

Young Man—What I can't understand, is why I didn't understand you had such a temper before I married you.

Wife—Well, whenever you said anything to annoy me these days, I used to go upstairs and bite a piece out of the dressing table.

On the other hand there is a way to find happiness:

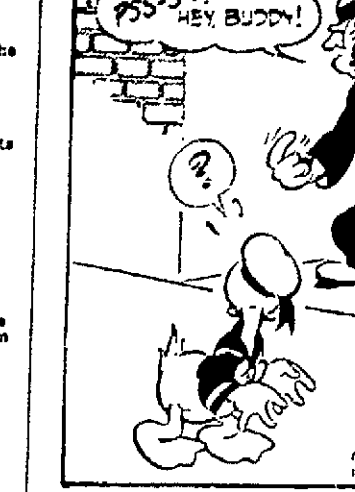

The joy of living, the growth of character, the development of intellect, and the material rewards, which we vaguely group together as "The Abundant Life," are found only along the rough road of endeavor.

The More Abundant Life cannot be voted in by legislative decree. It is brought about by the operation of inescapable laws. We work hard in order that we may play hard. We suffer greatly to enjoy greatly. We know humility in defeat and disaster. Out of victory comes exaltation.—Arthur J. Wilcox.

HOLLYWOOD—The "Selznick touch" is not so ballyhooed as the "Goldwyn touch," but it ought to be. When young David O. makes a picture, it is worth looking at—and this is true again of his newest "The Young in Heart."

It's a cinema fable of regeneration, and basically it's an old story as most good movie stories are. It's the way it's done that makes "The Young in Heart" a piece to warm young hearts and old.

A never-do-well family of sharpers has fallen upon evil days. Invited to leave the scene of their latest, almost successful forays upon the wealth of the Riviera, they meet on the train a kindly, sentimental old lady who believes in them. When the train is wrecked, the adventures, aware of her wealth, save the old lady's life and then are persuaded to believe her loneliness by sojourning at her London home. Their plan to ingratiate themselves into her will succeeds, but before that happy denouement each of the four has found good reason to reform. The story is similar, in this respect, to "The Miracle Man," but is original in treatment. Delightful in humor, and an exceptionally well acted under the knowing direction of Richard Wallace.

The difficult role of the almost too sugary Miss Ellen Fortuna is played, outstandingly, by the stage Young and Billie Burke as the father and mother of the Carleton tribe contribute typical performance. Janet Gaynor and Douglas Fairbanks Jr. as the daughter and son who think they're too hard-boiled for love but learn better, offer real characterizations. Pauline Goddard is pretty, and adroit as the Fairbanks inspiration, and Richard Carlson makes an impressive bow as the Scotch lad who changes Gaynor's ideas.

"THE GREAT WALTZ" is a fictional account of the life of Vienna's waltz king, Johann Strauss II, with Fernand Gravet, Luise Rainer as his faithful, understanding wife, and Milza Korjus as the opera star who almost takes Fernand away.

WITH beautifully orchestrated and throbbing waltzes, continuously through the narrative, Julien Duvivier's novel, directional style, Rainer's quietly sassy gamut-running, and the insinuating appeal of the new melody siren Korjus, "The Great Waltz" has few dull moments, many exciting ones. Best of the lot: the musical dramatization of the composing of "Tales from the Vienna Woods."

Obvious, least excusable fault in the film is its anti-climatic ending, with Strauss and frau in old-age make-up receiving Vienna's plaudits.

Supervisors Get Letters for Fund

With the display in the hall of fame will be busts of these two famous Ulster county men and as a part of the exhibit it has been suggested that a statue be placed in conjunction with the memorial to John Burroughs and the Senate House as a part of the display of Governor Clinton.

Mr. Kurdt stated that for each of the twelve regions of the state a booklet will be printed for distribution. A contract submitted by P. H. Carey of New York, low bidder for the job, was explained. The booklets will have 22 pages of reading matter and like number of pages of pictures showing the historical, industrial, agricultural and entertainment facilities of the region. Many of the pictures which have been collected to show of Ulster county life will be used in this booklet.

One Quarter of Cost
Mr. Kurdt stated that the bid for 50,000 booklets was $3,355, and Ulster county is asked to pay one-quarter of the cost. However, he stated that in this figure he was expressing the maximum cost and that figure would be reduced through advertisements. If 22 pages of advertisements are secured the cost of publishing the booklet will be nothing. Since Ulster county is grouped with Rockland, Sullivan and Orange counties, he told the board that much was to be gained from this publicity which the industrial and recreational life of the county of Ulster would receive from the publication.

One-third of the cost of the publication must be met soon and this will be refunded if advertising solicited reduces the cost of publication.

"Ulster County Day"
Mr. Kurdt also stated that Grover Whalen, president of the fair, had offered Ulster county a "Ulster County Day" at the fair and the date June 19 had been suggested. After hearing the report of the activities of the committee from Mr. Kurdt the matter of the appropriation was referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

A report of the Committee on County Treasurer and Sealer was received and bills to the amount of $336.21 had been found to be proper charges against the county and the committee, Supervisors Elston, Smith and McDowell, moved that that amount be assessed and levied on the county to pay same. Over under the rule.

Supervisors Murray, DuBois and Duffy reported that bills to the amount of $29.05 for justices and constables had been found to be proper charges against the county and moved that that sum be levied and assessed. Over under the rule.

Supervisors Ketch, Williams and Snyder, committee on commissions of election reported bills totaling $779.91 had been found proper charges against the county and moved that sum be raised. Over under the rule.

A communication was received giving the amount of the bid submitted for construction of steel truss bridge over Beaverkill in Hardenbergh and on motion of Supervisor Hayes of Hardenbergh the contract was awarded to State Engineering Company of Albany for the sum of $7,583. Adopted. Other bids were published in Wednesday's Freeman.

Annual Reports
The annual reports of the Farm Bureau, Home Bureau and 4-H Club were received and filed and are available for inspection by Supervisors at the office of the clerk.

Supervisor Anderson of Rochester moved that there be raised on that tax the sum of $500 for welfare purposes and $697.30 to pay certificate and interest issued for voting machines. Over under the rule.

Resolutions were offered that there be raised on the various supervisory districts of the county the annual increment for district superintendents, as follows: First Supervisory District, $366; Second Supervisory District, 400; Third Supervisory District, 300; Fourth Supervisory District, 300. Over under the rule.

Supervisor Wadlin of Lloyd moved that the unpaid returned third sewer assessments be assessed against the properties liable thereto and that when these sums were collected they be paid over to the supervisor. Over under the rule.

The annual financial report of County Treasurer Pine was received and referred to the committee on county treasurer. In his report he reported the following:

Balance on hand November 1, 1937	$202,247.29
For Highway purposes, Old Age Relief, Court and Trust Funds on hand November 1, 1937	220,836.88
Total Fund on hand November 1, 1937	$423,084.17
Total receipts for year for all purposes	$3,064,877.08
Total disbursements for year, all purposes	$3,095,353.22
Balance October 31, 1938 available for General Purposes	$194,618.58
For Highway, Old Age Relief, Blind, Court and Trust and a. d. earmarked funds	198,989.45
The balance on hand October 31, 1938	393,608.03

31, 1938, must carry the county until February 1, 1939 when the 1938 taxes will be received by the county treasurer.

A communication also received stating that it would be necessary to raise on the county the sum of $2.20 for the Employees' Retirement Fund. Referred to Committee on County Treasurer.

Resolutions from the previous session were called up and adopted.

On motion of Supervisor Wadlin the board adjourned until Monday at 7:30 o'clock.

Financial and Commercial

Strike Collapse In France Results In Better Markets

The collapse of the general strike in France before it had fairly gotten under way, due to the firm handling of the threat to French industry by Premier Daladier, coupled with scattered signs of better domestic business, were factors in producing a better tone in security markets, both here and abroad.

On the New York Stock Exchange industrial stocks advanced 2.75 points, to 143 1/2 in the Dow Jones averages. Rails were up 0.70 point, to 29 1/2; utilities showed a gain for the day of 0.51 point, to 22 1/2. Transactions totaled 889,000 shares. Corporate bonds shared in the advance, with higher grade rails in the lead.

Additional revenue of around $25,000,000 for the railroads, with eastern roads benefitting the most, is seen from the action of the ICC in extending for an indefinite period the higher rates on bituminous coal which were to expire on the 1st of the year.

The American Gas & Electric Co. yesterday filed with the SEC a formal plan for integration under Section 11 of the Utility Act of 1935. Although other utility companies have filed plans, this is the first formal one filed as an official document for public hearing whenever the SEC is ready for such action. The plan is seen as a basis of action for testing the meaning of Section 11 which has been subject to various interpretations, some claiming that the section permits a holding company to own but one other system, while others seek permission to own a number of systems, depending upon the attitude taken by the SEC. Late yesterday Commonwealth & Southern filed an outline that might be done with that system, which will find no unexpected the announcement that John L. Lewis, head of CIO, took an opposition attitude to profit-sharing when he appeared before the Senate sub-committee which is investigating that subject with reference to possible legislation giving tax credits to industries sharing profits with their employees. Lewis apparently is afraid the plan will avoid paying "decent wages" and appear to objects to labor sharing the hazards contingent upon financial and business fluctuation.

Secretary Morgenthau announced that the treasury will raise $700,000,000 new money December 15; also $942,000,000 of notes maturing in March will be refinanced.

Electric output during the holiday week will under the previous week, but was still 6.7 per cent over 1937.

Pontiac's output is at the rate of 20,000 a month, vs. 12,000 a year ago, while orders are topping last year by three to one.

Dividend announcements yesterday included: Sperry Corp., $1 on common; P. Lorillard, 50 cents; Huggins, 50 cents; 60 cents; Armstrong Corp., 50 cents; George W. Helme regular quarterly of $1.25 and extra of $2.

A Rhode Island Superior Court has ruled that United Textile Workers of America contract with CIO, affecting some 400,000 workers, is invalid.

New York's unemployment insurance act is the "worst in the union" and should be revised immediately, President Swann of General Electric told a state joint legislative committee investigating labor relations. He said, also, that the government was "not fair and impartial in dealing with labor and industry."

Horn & Hardart Co., New York, have authorized payment of the 25th annual consecutive wage bonus to employees. It will exceed $250,000 this year and will be paid December 15. The company declared a year-end dividend of 80 cents on common stock.

Standard Brands ordered a quarterly dividend of 12 1/2 cents on common stock.

Many railroads are reducing fares for the holiday period, effective December 15 to January 1. A widest strike at the Plymouth plant in Detroit yesterday, by 50 employees in the body-handling department, caused nearly 15,000 workers to lose a day's pay. Union officials indicated that instigators of the unauthorized strike would be disciplined.

Dingo Dog of Australia Is Puzzle to Biologists

The Australian dingo has proved something of a mystery to biologists, writes Frederic J. Haskin in the Washington Star. The dog is a stoutly built, somewhat shaggy animal averaging 50 inches over all including 11 inches of tail. It is dun colored as a rule, although some have black spots which, it is claimed, have arisen from interbreeding with imported European dogs.

The stance is graceful, not unlike that of a greyhound and the fox-like, triangular ears and the pointed nose give an impression of keenness. The animal is fleet and a mighty hunter. It likes mankind, but is quite lacking, it would appear, in the undying faithfulness of most dogs. It is not at all unusual for a dingo to shift its allegiance. For example, a visitor may come to a camp to which a dingo has been attached for months, even years. The dog will decide it likes the visitor better than its master and follow him.

The dingo, as a rule, does not hunt in packs but singly. The spitz-like rat is the usual prey. However, since the introduction of sheep and the establishment of the great sheep stations the dingoes have preyed unmercifully upon the creatures. A sheep station in the United States would be called a sheep ranch. Australia has its own nomenclature. Thus where Americans refer to a flock of sheep Australians call it a mob of sheep. A single dingo has been known to pull down 100 sheep in a single night.

The dingo was a bit rough for shares of U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, U. S. Rubber, Montgomery Ward, Boeing, American Smelting, Allied Chemical, John-Manville and Santa Fe.

Resistant were North American, International Harvester, Loft, Southern Railway, Great Northern, Monsanto Chemical, U. S. Gypsum and International Telephone.

Camphor Tree an Evergreen

The camphor tree, an evergreen, looks like a linden, has a smooth, greenish bark, with white flowers and red berries. The chief obstacle to its cultivation is its slow growth, as a tree is 30 years old before it is available. The camphor is obtained by chopping the trunk and roots into small chips, and applying heat in a still. The camphor comes off as a vapor, and is condensed. As camphor fumes overstimulate the tear glands, the workers in the refineries weep, and weep, and weep. The Venetians were the first people in Europe to refine camphor. They probably learned the trick from the Chinese. Then the Dutch got a monopoly on refining, and it is only in recent times that the process has become generally known.

Inhabitants of Bolivia

Bolivia, the Switzerland of South America, has been ruled by a few families of pure Spanish ancestry for the past 120 years, but its population includes a great number of Indians. There are the Quechuas and Aymaras, over whom the Incas ruled; the indolent Chiquitanos of the eastern section who live in primitive palm hovel in the lowlands; the Chiriguano, a warlike race living in the foothills of the Andes, and the lawless Tobas, robust, thick-bodied, untamed.

Reelfoot Lake in Tennessee

Reelfoot lake is in Obion and Lake counties, Tennessee, near the northwest angle of the state and extending into Fulton county, Kentucky. It is a large and shallow expanse of water, 18 miles long, and was formed during the earthquake of 1811. It receives Reelfoot, Pawpaw, and other creeks, and discharges through the Reelfoot river into the Obion river. It is widely known among sportsmen for its bass fishing.

Toad's Tongue Impales Insects

Toads are equipped with tongues of special design to aid them in snipping up insects without bothering to exert themselves greatly. Like many other forms of animal life, the toad has a tongue which it shoots out to impale insects. Unlike the other insect gathering tongues, the toad's is not attached to the throat, but to the front of the upper jaw. It lies with its free end pointing backward and is not darted out, but snapped forward like a rubber band.

How to Live

Live then, live to your utmost and your best. Do not be afraid of anything; neither the bitterest sorrow that the world holds, nor its most poignant joy, can bring you anything but good, so long as you embrace it willingly, passionately. But, sium a sorrow or a joy, and you are clipped, maimed, blinded.—Bacon.

Many Lives, Ships Lost

In Dardanelles Battles
The first allied attack on the Dardanelles, February 19, 1915, was made by British and French ships. Attacks on February 23 and March 4 were followed by the main assault on March 18, in which one French and two British battleships were sunk by Turkish mines and four ships were put out of action before the allied forces withdrew. In April a combined military and naval campaign was begun. During this G-1 lipoli campaign the navy rendered important aid, shelling the shore to protect land operations and demoralizing the Turkish communications by submarine, which sank three Turkish gunboats, and other ships. Turkish and German submarines retaliated; the big ships of the allies were powerless and they were ordered home.

By September the hopelessness of the campaign was realized. The navy handled the withdrawal of the troops with great skill, completing evacuation on January 8, 1916, nearly 11 months after the first attack. British casualties totaled 5,033 officers and 114,076 of other rank killed, wounded and missing.

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE

Many of those groaning, nagging, painful backaches people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisons out of the blood. When people pass about 3 pints a day of about 3 pounds of waste.

Frequent urination, passing with a smarting and burning when there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

If the 18 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisons waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, and soon you'll be free from over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisons waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Prominent Local Dramatists in "You and I"

WILLIAM FITCH

Prominent local players are featured in the cast of the County Theatre's production of "You and I," due Wednesday and Thursday, December 7 and 8, at the Kingston High School auditorium. Both leading players, Marion Byrnes and William Fitch, have had professional experience with the remainder of the supporting cast well known for their roles in past amateur dramas in this city. Both Marion Farrell and Robert Flynn were first seen in the "Poor Nut" as seniors in Kingston High School.

Marion Byrnes will be seen in the role created by the famous comedienne, Lucille Watson, on Broadway, that of Nancy White, the understanding wife who sacrifices present happiness in order that her husband may carry out a long denied ambition.

Playing opposite Miss Byrnes in the part originally filled by H. B. Warner will be William Fitch, as Matey, the husband.

The romantic leads are played by Marion Farrell and David Pennington, both well-known to local audiences.

MARION FARRELL

The case is rounded out by Peter Minasian as the blustering business man, Robert Flynn as the world-weary author, and Isabel Byrnes as Etta, the maid, who contributes much of the comedy to be found in the play.

A season of summer stock at Schoentag's, and one with the New England Producing Company followed Marion Byrnes training at the Emerson College of Dramatic.

In addition to directing "Gypsy Jim," locally, Miss Byrnes will be remembered for her performances in "Pronell," "Pride and Prejudice" and "Give Us This Day" by the Kingston playwright, Howard Koch, now of New York.

This was the first performance anywhere of this play which last received a New York production.

ROBERT FLYNN

Robert Flynn's previous assignments cover "The Poor Nut," "The Ninth Guest," "Night of January 16th," "Pride and Prejudice," and in "You and I" he will be Geoff Nichols.

Marion Farrell, last seen as Jane in "Pride and Prejudice" in the first season of the County Theatre, also has appeared in "The Queen's Husband," "The Poor Nut," "Gypsy Jim" and "Nothing but the Truth."

In addition to having directed many plays in Ulster Park, David Pennington has directed locally "The Patsy," "The Ninth Guest" and "Nothing But the Truth." His previous acting assignments include "Big Hearted Herbert" and the leading roles in both "Give Us This Day" and "Pride and Prejudice."

Peter Minasian playing G. T. Warren, has been seen in "Smiling Through," "Holiday," and the "Emperor Jones" as done by Tutts College.

"You and I" marks the debut in Kingston of Isabel Byrnes as Etta, the maid. Judging by her success in rehearsal, it is certain to be an auspicious one.

Is Your Conversation Versatile, Charming?

Suit Talk to the Occasion Wherever she is, Jane says the charming, graceful thing.

Easy to sail right through any conversation, it is in advance you take on a cargo of good phrases, timely topics.

In front of the fire with your best beau, talk lightly on casual subjects. Say, "That jolly song we heard in 'Spawna of the North' keeps running through my head."

Someone brings up a serious subject? Don't brand yourself ignorant, stupid by giggling. "That's too much for my little brain." Answer intelligently. "Yes, I think housing's important, too." Or show your interest by, "Do tell me about it."

Introduced to a new man? Awaken his interest by bringing an I-You note into the conversation. Say, "It's nice to meet a friend of Jack's—are you as much of a football fan as he is?" Send the man a copy of your copy of SECRETS OF GOOD CONVERSATION To The Kingston Daily Freeman, Home Service, 635 Sixth Avenue, New York, N. Y. ## Police Conducting Search for Girl Seized Yesterday

Washington, Dec. 1 (P).—Police and residents of nearby Maryland conducted an intensive search today for 18-year-old Mary Brown, reported by her sister to have been abducted by two roughly dressed young men.

The sister, Lucy, 15, said Mary was seized late yesterday and thrown into a small delivery truck on a lonely road near their home at Suburban Oxon Hill, Md.

Lucy said she herself broke away from the men, leaped into underbrush by the roadside, crawled under a fence and ran screaming across a snow-covered field to her home. She sobbed her story over the telephone to police.

Her mother, Mrs. William L. Brown, was absent.

Captain Edward Johnson, of the Maryland State Police, took charge early today of the search for the missing girl, a pretty brunette. A score of neighbors and officers, armed with shotguns, had tramped through woods and checked trucks throughout the night.

The girl's father made an appointment at the department of justice to ask the help of J. Edgar Hoover, director of the federal bureau of investigation. The FBI's activity in kidnap cases is limited to those in which there is reason to believe a person has been carried across a state line.

Two young men, riding in a truck, were questioned by Washington police during the night. Inspector Bernard Thompson said they acknowledged being in the vicinity of Oxon Hill at the time of the abduction, but denied having seen the girls.

A woman living near Red's Corner, Md., five miles from the Brown home, said she heard a girl screaming in a passing truck late yesterday afternoon.

Officers said Lucy Brown told them she and her sister were returning home from a business school in Washington and a friend had given them a ride part of the way.

The men in the truck asked if they wanted another ride, Lucy said, but they refused.

"One jumped out and I ran to a big hole in a fence along the road," she continued. "I started through this hole when I heard Mary scream. I looked back and the man had grabbed her and was dragging her to the truck."

"He threw her into the truck and drove back toward Washington."

William B. Brown, the girls' father, was called from his work at the Federal Bureau of Printing and Engraving.

Held as Tramp

James Murray, 49, who said he had no home, was arrested in the town of Ulster yesterday by Trooper Reilly. He was held at the county jail to await a hearing before Justice R. J. Mooney on a charge of being a state tramp.

Don't Let Constipation Drag On!

Do you often have days when you wake up tired—when you feel dull, sunk, "all bogged down"? It's time you did something about it. And something more than just taking a physic! You should get at the cause of the trouble! If you eat what most people do—just bread, meat, potatoes—chances are that just this fact is responsible: you don't get enough "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean a lot of food. It means a kind of food that isn't consumed in the body, but leaves a soft "bulky" mass in the intestines that helps a bowel movement.

If this is your trouble, what you need is crisp crunchy Kellogg's All-Bran for breakfast. It contains "bulk" plus Nature's great intestinal tonic, vitamin B. Eat it every day, drink plenty of water, and see if your old sparkle doesn't come back! Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

MAKING IT A MERRY CHRISTMAS

BESIDES SANTA THERE ARE...
Everyone knows this whiskered, old myth-eaten gent has a lot of work to do Christmas Eve, and even before, as he makes a gallant effort to please folks with the gifts he hangs on the tree, but...

TREE-CHOPPERS...
Woodsmen like this husky Colorado youth must beat Santa into millions of homes with Christmas trees. Their holiday rush is to frosty forests. Those evergreen boughs will be loaded with tinsel and toys.

TOYMAKERS...
Thousands of workers in Toyland and doll hospitals must toil like this painstaking lady. For there's hard work back of every starry-eyed doll that's hugged when the Christmas bells ring out.

FOUNDRIES...
And into the merry peals of Christmas bells goes the labor of husky foundrymen who cast them from molten metal. They are balanced and carefully tined. Christmas morn they summon folks to candle-lit churches.

CANDLEMAKERS...
Hours of hot work go into Christmas candles. This candlemaker is pouring molten wax down already well-coated wicks. He can make more than 500 candles a day. They'll greet greetings from many windows.

AND GREETING CARRIERS...
Greetings and gifts are the mail man's burden for many days before Christmas. This one has a regular Santa's pack. Postal employees gladden Christmas cheer by truck, plane and train across the nation.

A "CLASSIC" THAT'S SLIMMING

MARIAN MARTIN PATTERN 9751

You're as slender as you look! And it's surprising how much thinner you'll appear when you've buttoned yourself into a slimming, tailored frock like Pattern 9751. As our picture suggests, this very attractive Marian Martin style molds the hips perfectly, yet has comfortable roominess at the hemline and throughout the bodice. The Sew Chart shows how easy it is to stitch unpressed pleats under the bodice yoke, and put an action pleat in the skirt. It tells, too, that you may have the collar match or contrast, and the sleeves long—or brief, and airily slashed! Pick wool, cotton or spun rayon—printed or plain—for this slenderizing all-purpose frock! And consider bright buttons as a "dress up" touch for the bodice closing, which makes the style so easy to put on and take off!

Pattern 9751 may be ordered only in women's sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48. Size 38 requires 3 yards 54 inch fabric.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS in coins for EACH MARIAN MARTIN pattern. Be sure to write plainly your SIZE, NAME, ADDRESS, and STYLE NUMBER.

Watch for the MARIAN MARTIN PATTERN FEATURE every day in this paper! You'll find the very newest styles you've been wanting—original designs created by Marian Martin especially for you! So simple that even a beginner can succeed with them, these patterns are noted for their size-accuracy and their perfect fit! ## Aircraft Worker Is Called Spy

Los Angeles, Dec. 1 (AP)—The dreaded accusation—spy!—was leveled today at 31-year-old Karl Allen Drummond, aircraft worker, for what federal agents charged was an attempt to betray his country's military secrets to Japan for $2,000.

Arrested after a six-months secret inquiry by the naval intelligence and G-men, Drummond was clapped into jail last night on an espionage charge with his arraignment set for today.

An indictment by the federal grand jury alleged that Drummond stole 150 photographs and 15 blueprints of a new naval plane from the Northrop plant and tried to peddle these, together with confidential construction papers, to Japanese officials.

The theft, it was asserted, started last May, a year after the youth was hired in the advertising department of Northrop, a division of Douglas Aircraft Corp.

In turn, a Japanese government dignitary, a member of a Japanese plane-buying commission, and a Los Angeles Japanese attorney, were approached, but turned down the overtures.

Drummond also was accused of purloining blueprints of an experimental bomber not yet off the drawing boards, and boarding a Japanese freighter in San Pedro harbor last May 28 in an attempt to sell them.

He assertedly was told to return at a later date, when a Japanese "would be aboard who would be interested," but he did not try again.

In his sales campaign in Los Angeles, the indictment said, the youth gave one Japanese official an opportunity to study the aircraft blueprints at his leisure, without closing the deal.

Several other arrests were forecast, if inquiry bears out that the youth was not the only alleged participant in the espionage scheme.

Revolving Door Case To Court of Appeals

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 1 (AP)—The case of the lady in the revolving door—and how hard a thump is $9,936 worth?—went to the court of appeals today.

It was a gilt-edged smack to Mrs. Sadie Burgess, who won that amount in a lower court.

She gave the swirling portal a slight push, she said, and it sent her sprawling into a Horn and Hardart automat restaurant.

Defense counsel countered with the assertion that Mrs. Burgess "merely pushed her hands so far ahead of her body that the section of the door behind her bumped against her back and shoulders," and, startled, she ran and fell.

Community Tree Planned for City At Court House

A community Christmas tree 30 feet high will be erected on the county court house lawn by the Kingston Business Men's Association to celebrate the coming of Santa Claus, who will also be present in person making his rounds between the various stores of the business section.

Santa Claus will also be a community attraction prior to the holidays as he makes his tour of the shopping center stopping in at the various stores where he will greet the kiddies and perhaps distribute some small gift to the lucky boy or girl who happens to have been a good little child during the past few weeks.

Arrangements for the community tree and the community visit of Santa Claus was arranged for at a meeting of the Business Men's Association this morning at Bernstein's store on Wall street.

Various forms of Christmas activities were discussed and it was decided to seek permission for the erection of street decorations in the form of strings of electric lights suspended across the streets. Whether this will be carried out depends on the report of the committee in charge.

Colonials Move Up To Second Place In American Loop

Kaplan Stars

Manager Threatens Protest on Error in Time—Sedran Play Reds Sunday; Troy Loose

In the first six minutes of play, before a fair turnout of basketball fans at the municipal auditorium, the Heinrich Brewers rolled up nine points to two for Kingston, and it looked as though the Colonials were in for a strong win that would overturn their victory ship.

But, when Sammy Kaplan came to life, and the "baskets" of Barney Sedran began to solve the offensive of the Washington, D. C., rangers, the game gradually changed its course and Kingston wound up with victory No. 4. Final score of the game was 31-26 in favor of the Colonials.

Kaplan thrilled the fans with his push-ups and shots from the side court in the first and third periods, adding to the Kingston score when the Colonials needed points. For the Brewers, Schoenfeld did the stellar performing, contributing five points and shining in his floor work.

While Kingston was defeating Washington, the New York Jewels took over the Haymakers at Troy 29-28. In winning, upstate the Jewels jumped into a tie for first place with the Philadelphia Hebrews, each club having five wins and two defeats for a percentage of .714. And, the Colonials by virtue of their win leaped into second, with four and two for a percentage of .667.

Manager McDonald of the Brewers, charging an error in the third period of the part of the timekeeper, said he would protest last night's game. Manager Barney Sedran, however, had no fear, he said, that the charge would amount to any more than Troy's protest of the Thanksgiving game, which was overruled by the league.

Right after the opening whistle, Goldfaden pumped in two dunks and a foul to put the Brewers in the lead, 5-0. Jules Bender broke the tie with one for the Colonials. Zahn and Wilson put together their shots to keep the visitors in front and Kweiler added a foul to make the count 13 for them at the end of the frame. Kaplan's trio of dunks, Bender's field and Johnson's foul gave the Colonials nine.

Johnson's push-up and long one from the side on a pass from Kaplan helped the cause of the Sedrans in the second frame, and then came Chik Reiser with a pair of dunks and a free throw. It was Reiser's field and the foul that followed, that Manager McDonald complained, claiming that Ward Tongue, the timer had sounded the horn for a rest period.

Tongue, who had mistaken a signal from the Kingston bench for a "time out" sign, said his clock was not stopped at the time Reiser made his field. Barney Sedran's interpretation was that there could be no protest as long as the clock was running and the players engaged. "The game was in progress," he said. McDonald of Washington contended that the sound of the horn indicated a "time out." "I'll make a protest," he threatened. There was only one minute left in the period when the wrangle occurred. Referee Pat Kennedy called for "play" and the contest continued.

At the beginning of the third frame, Kingston was in the lead by two points, 20-18, but forged further into the van on the good work of Kaplan and Fleiger, who collected for 11 points in the last stanza. The Brewers made eight in the final period. Schoenfeld, Freilhaber, and Kweiler doing the shooting.

Kingston displayed a fine brand of passing in the closing session, tiring the Washington cagers who were weak on the defense. Tonight, Washington plays at home, meeting the Jersey Reds. Sunday the Reds are at Union City, their own court, against the Colonials in the afternoon.

Father and Son To Help Brown

Providence, R. I., Dec. 1 (AP)—Brown University's revived football hopes today appeared to rest on the shoulders of a father and his son, head coach Deornand (Tuss) and Captain-elect John McLaughry, one of the outstanding blocking backs in the east.

For the past two seasons the younger McLaughry has been one of the most dependable players on his father's squad and last night his teammates elected him to succeed Captain Larry Alwell next season.

Mass Plane Production

Washington, Dec. 1 (AP)—The average American soon may be worrying about making payments on the family airplane and taking the children out for a Sunday flight. Chairman Edward J. Noble of the Civil Aeronautics Authority said today he thought it possible that mass production of comparatively cheap, easy-to-fly planes would be under way within 12 months.

Fossil of Pod Seems to Be Linked With Coal Age

ST. LOUIS.—A fossilized seed pod, believed to be a connecting link between the fernlike plants of the coal age and the present day flowering plants, has been discovered by Henry Andrews, botany instructor at Washington University, in oil shales near Edinburgh, Scotland. The fossil, one of about 2,500 found by Andrews while doing research work last summer for the Belgian-American Educational foundation, is about 400,000,000 years old, according to Andrews. The find has been added to the botany collection at the university. The fossilized seed pod is tulip-shaped, black in color and about 2 1/2 inches long. A species of coal age plant life which preceded the relatively sudden later appearance of the flowering plants, its discovery is considered of some importance since such finds of evolutionary links between the two type plants are exceedingly rare, Andrews pointed out.
